

WISDOM WAVE

Volume 2

January 1, 1991

MAY YOUR NEW YEAR BE BRIGHT!

Dear Friends;

Immortal Spirits;

Greetings! Happy New Year! I wish you the gift of a renewed life in all its grandeur - vigorous, spontaneous, and benevolent. As you all know the human race as well as the earth and all its inhabitants are living on the edge because of the catastrophic situations created by mediocre minds with all their selfish arrogance and dubious motivations. At this juncture, it is imperative for everyone of us to look to the spirit of guidance and to reflect upon our shortcomings and the diabolical patterns of behavior which are self destructive and cruel to the core.

Every individual should join in cooperation to avoid the catastrophe and to restore the pristine glory of the human race which is based upon kindness, compassion, love, giving, caring and forgiving. In this New Year, the days are bright and appear to be auspicious for such a noble initiation. Coming into existence as a result of such effort on the part of its founders and supporters, Wisdom Wave takes this opportunity to appeal to your conscience to make amends in the coming year and all years to come and to help the erring perpetrators of disaster to see the light of wisdom and to eschew violence on all levels. The grace of living in happiness and beatitude is our birthright; causing harm and destruction is the bane of human ignorance. Therefore, oh Blithe Spirits, awake, arise, and stand up to your rights of freedom, wholeness, and sanctity of all life, including the life of our living planet, the earth.

Au revoir,

Shyam

WW's founding mothers and fathers send you best wishes for a fulfilling New Year. Pictured on the back row are: Peter Hofstra, Adele Young, Gip Brown, Grace Kimball & Bill Vania; Middle Row: Lynn Walters, Patricia Brown, Shrikrishna Kashyap & Pui Harvey; in front are Marion Shirin and Sandy Phelps Canzone. Not pictured are John G. Williams and Robert Shockey. Photo courtesy of Laura Barnett.

QUIPS AND QUOTES:

"The Gospel is not merely the narration of what has been; it is the sublime narration of WHAT IS and what always WILL BE. Ever will the Saviour of the world be adored by the Kings of intelligence, represented by the Magi: ever will He multiply the eucharistic bread, to nourish and comfort our souls; ever, when we invoke Him in the night and during the tempest, will He come to us, walking on the water, ever will He stretch forth His hand and make us pass over the crests and billows: ever will He cure our distempers and give back light to our eyes; ever will He appear to His faithful, luminous and transfigured upon Tabor, interpreting the law of Moses"

Anonymous contribution, 1990

THE RIVER

Shyam:

Just as a river starts from trickles at its source and becomes a stream and in its onward march develops into a river, we , who started as dribbles and drops have taken a long course within the boundaries of our banks of sincerity, creativity, tranquility and direction, are heading towards the ocean to be always expansive and blissful. The Divine is inherent with all its grace and adorability in every ripple, in every wave of the ocean as it is inherent in every drop of the river. It is a continuous course of tremendous flow and perpetual yearning. This tranquil flow is very necessary because all of us are living on the edges.

Querent:

Is there some way to produce conditions which enhance our journey toward the ocean of expansion and bliss?

Shyam:

You get conditioned here in that journey

also but you transcend that condition and go into some profound conditions until you're no longer a quantum unit. You do not return to the quantum unit but rather you return to the primary vibration which is freedom itself, total freedom from everything. Healing is making one whole and not making a unit of the person, which is again vivisection, division. Healing is integration. Whatever is whole is sacred and holy. That means it is beyond the limitation of conditioning, beyond the limitation of all the turmoil we go through in our minds.

Querent:

There's something in growth having to do with boundaries, a child's boundaries are smaller than an adult's.

Shyam:

If you go to the origin of a river you will find trickles. I went to the origin of the Ganges in Gangotri. Drop by drop it began, then forming trickles, then a small stream flowing forth at 14, 100 feet. From a trickle it becomes a river with banks. It flows within the two banks, otherwise it would not flow but merely vanish in the desert. The earth would absorb it. It has to flow within the banks to maintain its identity, that boundary is that limit of where it goes and what it does, but within that boundary it flows on ultimately to the ocean. It has to stay in the path it takes toward the ocean. It has a boundary no doubt, so that there is no distraction, but within that boundary it flows on and becomes vast, one with the ocean.

Querent:

Is the boundary like our natural limits, the limits of our nature and our constitution?

Shyam:

Yes, other wise you'd be gone if you don't flow within that boundary. There's the limitation that you came within a human body, you have to develop within the body which is why the body needs to be pure, eating good, pure food to maintain the sanctity of your thoughts and natural reactions. Then you can flow righteously within the boundary. Then the boundary does not affect you or cramp you. It will lead you to such an expansion that ultimately you become the ocean. That boundary they say is kindness and compassion.

Querent:

Kindness toward yourself?

Shyam:

It must be. If you are not kind to yourself, you cannot be kind to any one else.

An affectionate Hindu known fondly in the USA as an itinerant Ayurvedic physician hugs his sacred friend Alika, which is the name of a city in heaven meaning "free from everything."

WHAT WE ARE DOING WITH YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS:

We have purchased a memory board for the computer which will allow us to begin some desk top publishing of more lengthy materials. Currently, we are waiting for the IRS response before making too many other expenditures. WW wishes to thank Robert MacDonald for his donation of a modem, and software package and another hard disc as well his patient and untiring help in working with the hard and software in order to help us increase our production capacity. In the next few years, God willing, WW members will begin to see tangible results of the technical foundation he has provided for us.

HOUSEKEEPING NEWS

* Regarding the list of available audio and video recordings we were hoping to provide, we have analyzed our situation and determined it would be better to bring you fewer but professionally made recordings. We will keep you apprised of our progress in this area. Please be assured all WW members will receive a discount on purchases. Thank you for your patience!

* A retreat is being planned with Bernadine Greer in Fayetteville, Arkansas at the end of May. We'll be sending details.

MEMBERSHIP

If you wish to become a member of WISDOM WAVE and have not done so, please send a $25 contribution to:

WISDOM WAVE
PO BOX 3558
SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO 87501-0558

Further information will be mailed upon your request. We are a non-profit corporation in New Mexico and are presently applying for federal tax exempt status with the IRS.